Cost Per Action Programs

Just a few notes if you've never dealt with CPA networks. These can be highly lucrative for you – all your web visitor has to do is fill out a form or survey, and you get cash.

CPA Networks will want to look at your completed website before granting approval. In fact, they may even call you on the phone to verify specifics. So wait till you get at least five to ten pages of content up before applying to CPA networks.

ROI Rocket only gives you debit cards -they will not pay by check. Fees are associated with the debit card - so think that all out before choosing your CPA network. Copeac.com will send checks. So while most CPA networks will claim to have the best payouts, look at how you're going to be paid to see who's got the best deal after all is said and done.

Also, some campaigns within the network will allow you to incentivize their offers; others are hard nosed and you have to use their banners or ads without amending them in anyway.

Here are some popular CPA networks you may want to consider joining.
